

SDC IS HIRING!

The Student Diplomacy Service Corps Micro-contracts for Student Diplomacy Corps Alumni

280 SDC alumni who are recent college graduates face an employment landscape devastated by the impact of the pandemic.

220 Student Diplomats who earned scholarships to explore the world have seen their summer adventures cancelled.

SDC is determined to serve these young women and men this summer.

SDC@LIVE will provide a platform for high school students from across the US to build community and engage in master classes with experts from across the country and around the world.

The Student Diplomacy Service Corps Associate Program will provide 3-week paid professional contracts for talented college students and recent college graduates from among SDC's 2014 & 2015 cohorts.

Inspired by Nobel Peace Prize Laureate Muhammad Yunus and his micro-credit initiatives, SDC will identify and hire Associates selected from our alumni community.

We are identifying talented communicators, well organized managers and technologically savvy creatives. Associates will pay it forward working directly with 2020 Student Diplomats by producing SDC@LIVE master classes and conversations.

Hiring has begun.
